The Thai economy in 1Q2022 recovered from the previous quarter due to higher export value. The number of foreign tourists increased after the easing of international travel restrictions. Headline inflation rose sharply in line with energy prices and fresh food prices. This affects the cost of living in low-income households and may affect private consumption. In addition, in 1Q2022 there was also an outbreak of the Omicron strain of Covid-19 that has a wide impact, with mild symptoms. The company had also found an outbreak of Covid-19 inside the factory since the beginning of 2022. However, this problem has started to resolve since March 2022.

The outlook for the Thai economy and the world economy still needs to be monitored 1) the conflict between Russia and Ukraine 2) the increase in production costs and prices of goods and services 3) the spread of Covid-19 in the country and 4) the lockdown measures in China that may affect the Chinese economy and Thailand's exports.
